Milan, December 21, 2005 – Travelling by train? Get organised with your Vodafone mobile phone. Thanks to the agreement between Vodafone Italia and Trenitalia, from today Vodafone customers can have access to information about connecting trains and departure and arrival timetables and all the information needed for their trips during the Christmas holiday season. All the information contained in the Trenitalia site is available on the Vodafone live! portal, in the Città e Viaggi section, to make travelling by train even faster and easier.

Travellers can look up train timetables and, thanks to a new special service that constantly monitors railway traffic, check on estimated times of departure and arrival. Finally, the Notizie & Promozioni section gives free information about all the latest news and updates on promotions and other initiatives currently being run by Trenitalia.
